About Antwerp Golf Courses

Royal Antwerp Golf Club

Play at the Royal Antwerp Golf Club, the oldest golf club in Belgium and one of the finest wooded heathland courses in northwest Europe. The terrain is fairly flat but challenging with plentiful bunkering and fast and immaculate greens. Mature pine trees and abundant heather line many of the fairways, with a couple of waterways coming into play. Good course management is key on this charming course.

Rinkven Golf & Country Club

The Rinkven Golf and Country Club is a natural golfing oasis consisting of two stunning 18-hole courses, the North Course and the South Course. Gorgeous lakes, narrow doglegged fairways and well-placed bunkers weave through a mature forest of pine and oak on this natural Belgian parkland course. The courses are championship worthy, with the South Course hosting the Ladies European Tour's 2017 Belfius Ladies Open.

Cleydael Golf & Country Club

Built on an archipelago in the capital of Antwerp, the Cleydael Golf and Country Club sits nestled in the wooded terrains of Aartselaar. This unique 18-hole course is built around the magnificent 14th century Castle of Cleydael, with the clubhouse located in the outbuildings in and around the castle. The first nine is more open and forgiving, while the second nine plays through forest. Every hole is challenging and unique, with the final 18th signature hole featuring stunning views of the castle.
