The Els Club

The Els Club has seamlessly integrated design features into a desert landscape. The course is built with undulations and steep elevation changes for visual and strategic interest. There is an extensive usage of dunes, sandy waste areas and native grasses and vegetation between wide fairways, along with a classic style of bunkering.

Measuring 7,538 yards from the tip, this is a challenge for the season golfers, but four sets of teeing areas means players across all standards can enjoy the challenge. The greenside protection system includes sculpted bunkers, grassy swales and creatively designed greens featuring fine-textured Bermuda grass that are smooth, fast putting surfaces all year round regardless of weather conditions.

The flawlessly trimmed playing surfaces are a continuous theme and are a testament to the skills of The Els Club and Dubai team. It is known as the best-maintained course in the region. We're proud of that. The club is also complemented by the state of the art Butch Harmon School of Golf. The school features outdoor full swing, short game and putting areas as well as indoor swing studios, putting studio and gym.

The holes entail features from Els' favorite courses across the world; bunker from Royal Melbourne, greens resembling Pinehurst No.2 and wide, rolling links fairways. Assimilate this with deliberately placed tee-boxes, strong course management, soft sand, hard sand and carefully-developed undulation, and you are presented with an unbeatable golf course design. The course is highly reputable and has won numerous awards such as the Best New International Course, Best New Facility of the Year and Best Golf Course in Dubai.
